Essentially, it is an automated system that plays blackjack on behalf of the user.

It uses algorithms and pre-programmed strategies to make decisions on when to hit, stand or double down based on the cards dealt to the player.

With the rise of online casinos and their availability around the clock, many players have turned to using bots as a way to increase their chances of winning.

However, it's important to note that using a bot is not always legal and can result in being banned from online casinos.

PRO TIP: Blackjack bots are automated software programs that use algorithms to calculate the best moves in a game of blackjack.

But how does it work exactly? Well, once you have downloaded or purchased a bot program, you will need to input certain parameters such as the rules of the game and your desired betting strategy.

The bot will then analyze each hand dealt and make decisions based on its programming.

However, this technique is not foolproof and can still result in losses if executed incorrectly.

However, there are a couple of exceptions.
