Sphinx Slot

Unleash the power of the mighty sphinx in with this 5-reel video slot from Gtech's Spielo game-making division.

The 9 payline game has a timeless Ancient Egyptian theme, inviting players to experience the riches and prosperity of the once great civilisation.

That is because the overall design appears rather lacklustre, with simple white backgrounds and quite generically designed icons.

Again, players will be presented with five more pick'em options, but this time with much bigger wins on offer.

Find the Treasures Within

This Spielo slot machine can be played with all 9 paylines but spinners also have the option to limit their losses by playing with 1, 3, 5, or 7 paylines instead.

Just another Egyptian Slot?

A point spread is a bet on the margin of victory in a sporting event.

Point Spreads, Explained

The stronger team or player will be favored by a certain number of points, depending on the perceived gap in ability between the two teams.

Rams -3.

You can learn more about American odds, but the number next to the spread is the juice associated with that bet.

Point spreads have an even tax on both sides because we expect each team to cover the point spread about 50% of the time.

It's easy to bet point spreads at a book like FanDuel or DraftKings.

Over/Under betting is a popular way to wager on sports.

Total bets are simply based on the number of points scored, without any link to the outcome of the game.

The vig for most Over/Under bets is -110 on each side, which means in order to win $100 betting on the Over or the Under you would need to wager $110.

A.

5 points with the vig on both the Over and Under set at -110.

Sometimes sportsbooks will adjust the vig on the Over/Under to entice more money to be wagered on one side.

The amount of money bet on the Over or the Under can also determine the total.

They are most commonly used for moneyline betting in soccer, with odds on each team as well as a draw match.
