18+ Mobile Sports Betting Guide

Now more than ever, sportsbooks are offering mobile betting for eighteen and up gamblers.

Is Mobile Sports Betting Legal For Bettors 18 And Over? Mobile sports betting for 18 and over bettors is legal at state-regulated domestic sportsbooks and international online sportsbooks.

State minimum gambling age restrictions vary and range between 18+ and 21+.

Using responsive design technology and HTML 5 development, mobile sports betting sites are compatible across a range of different mobile devices, operating systems, and mobile networks.

Because these sports betting apps are web-based in nature, there is no download required to place bets at online sportsbooks on Apple products.

Android has a huge international presence, and sportsbooks have made sure to include mobile betting for Android users all around the world.

Sportsbooks offer various bonuses to attract new bettors and to keep their bettors coming back.

VegasInsider has a team of hosts and handicappers that rotate throughout the week to discuss the different sports that they will be betting that week.

Cousin Sal, alongside the "Degenerate Trifecta" of Sal, Brian "B rother Bri" Szokoli, and Darren "The Parlay Kid" Szokoli discuss their sports betting misadventures from the past week as well as the week to come with a self-deprecating wit that could only be honed through years of friendship and torn-up betting slips. These guys also release a newsletter discussing any news and insights from some of the industry's top "EV" bettors.

Golf, NBA, and NFL are most prominently featured but other lower-profile sports such as the Kentucky Derby and even the Oscars are given in-depth treatment by the rotating cast of hosts and guests.

Here's sports bettor Steve Fezzik with former NFL lineman-turned-media mogul Ross Tucker - the guy who makes this podcast unique. Some three-person podcasts don't work because the people talk over each other.
